

FOURTH MATINAL DOXASTICON (ΕΩΘΙΝΟΝ)

Fourth Mode

Intonation: #11

Andante ♩=88

Δόξα Πατρί

Un. E D

Glo - ry — to the Fa - ther, and to —

C D

the — Son, and to the Ho - ly —

Spir - it.

"Ορθρος ἦν βαθύς

Un. G↓

It was ver - - - - ly — ear - - - - ly —

E >

in the morn - ing when the wom - - en — came un - to Thy —

Fourth Matinal Doxasticon

sep - - - ul - - - chre, O Christ, but Thy bod - y which was pre - - - cious to them was not found. Where - fore, as they were much

per - - - plexed, men in shin - ing gar -

- ments stood

by them and said: Why seek ye the_ liv - - ing a - mong—the dead? He is ris - en as—He fore - told. Why have ye for - got - - - ten His words? Be - - - ing per - suad - - - ed by them, the wom - - - en pro - claimed the things they—had seen, but their glad tid - ings seemed as i - dle tales, for the dis - ci - ples were—yet with - - - out un - der - stand - - -

Fourth Matinal Doxasticon

3

Fourth Matinal Doxasticon

ing. But Pe - ter ran _____ forth, but Pe - ter ran____ forth, and_____

Soft Chromatic

when he saw Thy won - ders,

he glo - ri - fied them with - in____

him - self.____

C      D      E

Continue with the Theotokion in the mode of the week on pages 888-898.

